

Reconnaissance Energy Africa Ltd.
Whistle Blower Policy

As part of its Corporate Governance practices, Reconnaissance Energy Africa Ltd. (“Reconnaissance” or the “Company”) has a process called the Whistle Blower Policy that allows directors, officers, employees, and consultants throughout the organization to report any unethical or illegal activity without fear of reprisal from their fellow employees, supervisors or other Company officials.

Whistleblowing is the disclosure of information that relates to suspected wrongdoing. This may include but are not limited to, criminal activities such as fraud, theft, breach of Company’s code of conduct and policies and procedures, danger to health and safety, unauthorized disclosure of confidential information, accounting irregularities, bribery and the deliberate concealment of any of those matters.

A whistleblower is a person who raises a genuine concern in good faith relating to a suspected wrongdoing. If you have any genuine concerns related to reasonably suspected wrongdoing you should report it under this Policy. If you are uncertain whether something is within the scope of this Whistle Blower Policy you should seek advice from the Whistleblowing Officer whose contact details are at the end of this Whistle Blower Policy.

Reconnaissance’s Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (“the Code”) was given to you to ensure that you understand and agree with the Company’s commitment to a culture of honesty, integrity and accountability. The Code together with this Whistle Blower Policy are both available from the Secretary and the website of the Company.

The Code provides the guidelines for appropriate behavior and establishes the basis for open communication. It has been written and distributed to ensure that directors, officers, employees, and consultants acting in good faith have the means to report actual or potential violations.

If you observe or become aware of any actual or potential violation of the Code or any law or regulation, that you believe is not being properly addressed by your supervisor or management of the Company, it is your responsibility to report the circumstances to the Whistleblowing Officer, as outlined below. According to Reconnaissance Anti-Bribery Policy anyone who learns of possible bribery involving Reconnaissance must report his or her concerns immediately. It is this Whistleblowing Officer’s responsibility to investigate any potential violation and report on the investigation.

As per the Code’s principles, there will be no reprisal against employees, officers, directors, or consultants for reporting violations. While all individuals are encouraged to identify themselves to facilitate a thorough and confidential investigation, you are not required to do so and you may make a report anonymously.

Please use any of the following options to contact the Whistleblowing Officer should you observe a violation of our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics or a law or regulation that you believe has not been properly complied with or correction action has not been taken:

The Whistleblowing Officer is Anna Tudela, Corporate Secretary and Chief Compliance Officer. She may be reached by confidential communication as indicated in the Company directory.

You are strongly encouraged to review the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics regularly. Please report any concerns which may arise through the options outlined above.
