CEO’S MESSAGE

Following a landmark 2019 year in which the company completed an RTO and became listed on the TSX Venture Exchange, ReconAfrica continued its strong momentum into early 2020. This included raising a further $3.4 million to finance the acquisition, upgrading and transport of a Crown 750 drilling rig. The Crown 750 drilling rig is being outfitted in Houston with a best-in-class top drive system (for faster drilling rates) and ancillary equipment to acclimate the rig for drilling in the Kalahari Desert.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, which brought about travel bans and logistical restrictions, the Company deferred scheduled drilling activities to such a time as critical restrictions are lifted. Following the Namibian government’s announcement that the country will begin to gradually reopen from Tuesday, May 5, domestic travel is now permitted within the country. International travel and admission of foreign nationals remain restricted in Namibia, but the Namibian government guidance is that further easing of restrictions could come as soon as June 1. In anticipation that Namibian and international restrictions will be lifted during the summer, ReconAfrica is continuing its operational planning for the drilling of its first well in Namibia in the fourth quarter of 2020.

In the first quarter of 2020 ReconAfrica significantly bolstered its management team through the additions of Scot Evans as Chief Operating Officer; Carlos Escribano as Chief Financial Officer; Anna Tudela as Corporate Secretary; John Boudreaux in logistics and procurement; and Shiraz Dhanani to the Board of Directors.

ReconAfrica is a junior oil and gas company engaged in the development of the newly discovered Kavango Sedimentary Basin, in northeast Namibia, where the Company holds a 90% working interest (from surface to basement) in a petroleum licence, comprising approximately 6.3 million contiguous acres.
