

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY IN NAMIBIA

May 28, 2020

With the Namibian government announcing on May 5th that domestic travel is now permitted, ReconAfrica took the opportunity to return to the Kavango Basin region for site preparations and meet with the local community.

ReconAfrica contributed food hampers and Personal Protection Equipment (PPE) to one hundred families living in the vicinity of our first drilling location.

“We are pleased to provide food parcels and sanitary products to families in Kawe in Kavango East,” said Yusneury Perez Martinez, ReconAfrica’s Deputy General Manager, based in Namibia. “We are gratified by the welcome we have received from the Ministry of Mines and Energy, the Governor’s office, and council and traditional authorities.”

“As part of the Northeast Namibian community, it is our responsibility to help as we can during these unprecedented times,” said the Company’s COO, Scot Evans. “The food hamper and PPE distribution are just part of what the Company will be doing to aid local citizens during our upcoming operations in Kavango Basin.”
